

Fermanagh transport company wins TPN Depot of the Year Award

Liam Connolly Roadfreight, of Lisnaskea, County Fermanagh, has been awarded 'Overall Depot of the Year' in the first TPN (The Pallet Network) Awards, held recently. TPN is Ireland's leading distributor of palletised goods and provider of pallet transport and sortation systems. TPN members from around the country voted in the awards, judging their peers on their performance in categories such as customer service and contribution to the national network.

Liam Connolly, whose sons, Darren, William and Andrew accepted the award on his behalf, said that he was delighted with the win. "I am honoured that my peers see Liam Connolly Roadfreight as such an efficient and effective member of the national network. Huge thanks are due to all our loyal staff in Fermanagh. They are the key to the company's success."

TPN's Managing Director, Seamus McGowan says, "Liam Connolly Roadfreight has been a huge asset to The Pallet Network and we were delighted to see them recognised for their achievements. They had succeeded in both providing their customers with an excellent service and in contributing to the overall growth of the national network."

Liam Connolly Roadfreight, founded in 1981, is a family owned and managed business located in Lisnaskea, Co. Fermanagh. It has built a sound reputation in the haulage business in the north of Ireland. In addition to vans and rigid trucks ranging from 7.5 through to 18 tonnes, the company runs a mixed fleet comprising Scania, DAF & Volvo tractor units.

This is the second award Liam Connolly Roadfreight has been honoured with in recent times.
